

Have Fun AND be Appreciated! Lead Database and Systems Administrator Needed

Are you well organized, self-motivated and do you enjoy working with the latest technology? Then, this is the job that you have dreamed about! Direxxis is an exciting database marketing software and services firm that will recognize your valuable contributions.

We are looking for a systems and database administrator who is eager to show their stuff. This is an ideal opportunity for an experienced individual who thrives in a small, energetic team environment.

We are a well-funded, profitable company, with existing clients, founded by well-known experts in database marketing and technology. We are a high-energy team driven to create a top-notch technical organization. Direxxis is located in Wellesley, MA at the intersection of Route 9 and 128.

Responsibilities and Skills

- Install and administer server operating systems (Windows 2003 Server, Linux)
- Install and administer Microsoft SQL Server databases
- Performance tuning
- Experience with databases between 50 and 100 million records
- Installation of Java application servers
- Planning and executing server backups
- Support our internal business infrastructure (email, file servers)
- Support and configure firewall devices
- Create SQL queries to produce custom data extracts
- Database loading, BCP and DTS
- Merge/purge and data appends
- Reporting
- Installation of firmware and software patches
- Familiarity with IBM BladeCenter products a plus
- Keen eye for details
- 5+ Years of experience required
- Experience in the database marketing industry a plus.
- Reports directly to CTO

Salary: $60K - $85K. We offer a generous suite of benefits.

How to Apply

Email resume to RickKollmeyer@direxxismarketing.com

No recruiters please. Sorry, at this time we are not offering H1B sponsorship. Candidates must be US Citizens or hold a Green Card.